TO WHOMSOEVER IT MAY CONCERN

I have known Pam for several years. She is a sincere spiritual seeker who attempts to take the concepts she learns on this path and applies them to her therapeutic work with her clients.

I make regular trips to the United States and travel to many places across the country occasionally offering workshops. When I am in Peoria, Pam hosts my program and me. I am appreciative of her love for the higher Truth and her efforts in the sharing this with other interested people. Because of this I have come to know her well. She is an honest, forthright person, who always is in the process of learning more about her spiritual nature/authentic self. Pam is willing to push the boundaries of traditional Western thought and therapy, and strives to bring the diverse perspective of the Eastern Science of Consciousness into her thinking and work. She is known for her integrity and concern for the clients with whom she works.

I highly recommend her work and her and feel she offers the highest possible opportunities to those who come to work with her.
